

State of South Carolina

Governor's Proclamation

WHEREAS, the South Carolina Area Health Education Consortium Future Health Professionals Summer Institute provides an opportunity for students to explore options available in the health care profession; and

WHEREAS, this educational program promotes healthy lifestyle choices in our young people as a means to enhance the quality of life of the residents of the Palmetto State; and

WHEREAS, with varied activities related to academics and career planning, the Institute fosters an increase in the number of minority and economically disadvantaged students entering the health profession; and

WHEREAS, the annual student conference provides an opportunity for our high school and undergraduate students to learn about health careers and requirements for professional success while emphasizing the academic achievement and personal development of the participants.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Mark Sanford, Governor of the Great State of South Carolina, do hereby proclaim June 7 - 10, 2005, as throughout the state and encourage all South Carolinians to encourage our young people to explore the possibility of pursuing a professional career in the health care field to enhance the quality of life of the residents of our communities.
